Surviving

Blank

I'll stand at your shoulder I'll keep you running right Keep you running right I'll fight in your corner I'll stay by your side I'll stay by your side There's no need now to worry Our love's still here tomorrow There ain't no use in crying For what's keeping us divided Baby, we're still trying, we're still trying We're too old to worry About who's wrong and who is right Is all so by and by People need a villain Someone to pay the price It keeps them satisfied There's no need now to worry I'll still be here tomorrow There ain't no use in crying For whats keeping us divided Baby, we're still trying, we're still trying Baby, we're still trying Baby, we're surviving
