No Love

Save Ferris

Listen to my story
Of a love gone wrong, so wrong
It is a story of a man and a lonely girl
And how his love for her destroyed their world, their world
A man meets a woman
And a woman meets a man, you see
It's a story as old as history
As old as history, yeah
Why, oh, why must it be this way
Where is the lover would be hero who will save our day
Who will save the day?
But this is all he'd say
I remember all the things she used to say
I remember all the games we used to play
I remember loving you
But now that love has all gone away, gone away, gone away
His love for her had only turned to harm
So she ran for sanctuary into another's arms, another's arms
But he caught wind of what was happening
And flew into a rage so maddening
She'll be with no one if she won't be with me
You see his love for her had turned to obsession
Could not let go of his prized possession
This what she was
For this is what she was
But the love turned into bitter jealousy
Violence ends in silence with fatality
Why must this be?
And I remember all the things she used to say
I remember all the games we used to play
I remember loving you
But now that love has all gone away, gone away, gone away
That's all, there is
No love, no love for you
That's all, there is
No love, no love for you
That's all, there is
No love, no love for you
This time

There's no love for you
This time
No love for you
There's no love
There's no love
There's no love
There's no love

Lyrics provided by https://damnlyrics.com/