

Blues of Desperation

Joe Bonamassa

I have a wall that I'm laying on Haven't decided what I'm waiting on
I gave all my love to you in anticipation
Now I live the blues of desperation Sliding down in a great free fall
Minding my manners waiting for your call
Heartless in mind, a soul of separation
Now it's the blues, the blues of desperation Maybe it's the devil doing this to me
Open up the door to divine misery
Hear the wolves howling at my door
One more last time don't come back no more
The heavens may fall and the rain may come
You fight and you die but what's done is done
Smile at me, while I live in damnation
Trying to make sense of these blues of desperation
Song Discussions is protected by U.S. Patent 9401941. Other patents pending.

Lyrics provided by

<https://damnllyrics.com/>