The End with You

Box Car Racer

Advisory - the following lyrics contain explicit language:

our days are running thin our hops will start to fall i can feel the world collapse around me from within and the letters keep coming by to let us know when time will die and please god will you forgive us and give us one more tryif you will then we'll go as fast as we go far maybe well be forgotten when the world is torn aparti've been up all night long counting days that all went wrong i opened my bedroom window i wish this pain was gone there are no useful drugs to escape from feeling numb i remember an amazing birthday i remember when i was youngif you will then we'll go as fast as we go far maybe we'll be forgotten when the world is torn apart
'cause the sun won't be so blinding and the rains will finally come the ashes will slowly pile up just to prove we're finally doneif you will then we'll go as fast as we go far
maybe we'll be forgotten when the world is torn apart
'cause the sun won't be so blinding
and the rains will finally come and the ashes will slowly pile up just to prove we're finally done

Lyrics provided by https://damnlyrics.com/