Radio Orchid

Fury In The Slaughterhouse

There's an old lady living in an old house
Since her husband died she hasn't been out
She lives in her own world with her own little nightmares
And she's stopped counting the daysShe buys a radio station with her husbands legacy
She does her own show 10 hours a day
Plays poems and listens, lets feelings run free
Helps people talk their pain awaySo if your world falls down
Can't see the light of day
Call the lady, call the station
Today and listenThis is radio orchid, listen and cry
To all the others that suffer and die
This is radio orchid, listen and cry
Take your lonely heart and let flySending her message, she's solving the problems
Of millions and millions and who solves hers
The old lady gets older, still lives in her old house
But when she dies, we'll all live aloneSo if your world falls down
Can't see the light of day
Call the lady call the station
TodayThis is radio orchid, listen and cry
To all the others that suffer and die
This is radio orchid, listen and cry
Take your lonely heart and let flyTake your lonely heart and let flySo if your world falls down
Can't see the light of day
Call the lady, call the station
TodayThis is radio orchid, listen and cry
To all the others that suffer and die
This is radio orchid, listen and cry
Take your lonely heart and let flyTake your lonely heart
