

Words

Zack Weber

You are one of a kind
You are one, wonderful
You keep me wondering
What you are wanting

As I look in the dictionary
I searched for words ordinary
People find extraordinary
Words about compassion

These words I've tried
Are sick and tired
These words so many
Hold so high, well
They'll never describe her
She's so much higher than
These words will ever be

But in her eyes
I have to stare
I see no letters
But the word,
Say it's there
And in her eyes
I have to stare
I see no letters
But the word,
Say its there

And we could be, become one
The ones who want
Want it all
And you are beautiful
The bird to my bee, yeah
Would you wanna be?

As I look in the dictionary
I searched for words ordinary
People find extraordinary

Words about compassion

These tears I've cried taste frustrating
Ive found no words that immitate
The fire inside that luminated
The road to my heart's desire

But in her eyes
I have to stare
I see no letters
But the word,
Say it's there
And in her eyes
I have to stare
I see no letters
But the word,
Say its there

I see no letters
But the word,
Say it's there
I see no letters
But the word,
Say it's there
