

The Journey

Rezonate

Escape the fame and fortune across the globe
No home or dreams, she was only eighteen
Stuck like glue to the streets still route
Private life has leads, out the out agree
Out the out agree So take your bit of light and explore your better sights
You'd be surprised that what you find
Let's free your mind
Let's free your mind
So every now and then the girl will take in
So stars make footsteps in our hearts
Make footsteps in our hearts
Escape the fame and fortune across the globe
No home or dreams, she was only eighteen
Stuck like glue to the streets still route
Private life has leads, out the out agree
Out the out agree They say life is just a simple quest for riches old Funny waves settling just the way it should
Shackles and rusty chains, I will never be tied down
I'm free, I control my destiny
So be the victim, be the captive of your future
Watch as boundaries begin to crumble into melodies
We are the saints, we are the authors of this very age
We bring down governments and sudden stays still grey
See how future is, around the world so gracefully
Letting music sound wave, we got the cake imagine it
Cover what you wanted, anywhere you're running
Cause you can't take this world away from me
