Gravity

Poets of the Fall

Here at the station, standing in the rain, lost in my train of thought Looking around for a better time again, but yesterday ain't running on this trackUnpredictable fortune, my past, lights up my future, at last, ending my tortureLike gravity like love,

You get up after you fall Like gravity like love I'm not afraid anymore Like gravity like love,

You get up after you fall, I ain't afraid no moreOut of no reason I've decided to stay, present a solution, to the problem,

Typical of me, that I concentrate on the destination so much that I miss the journey there and backUnpredictable fortune, my past, lights up my future, at last, ending my tortureLike gravity like love,

You get up after you fall Like gravity like love I'm not afraid anymore Like gravity like love,

You get up after you fall, I ain't afraid no moreIf gravity was love, if gravity was love, if gravity was love...
