

Walk Away

Tantric

Ohh

All ready to fall, but I don't know

Out a while, can't wade too far

From this mistake that I made Rent view, you taken over my view

Affecting all that I do

And the gift is a take I tried to figure out about the cloud

That I am needing to know more about

Stop, lost again, remind the mind

And you will find me alone again

With the beginning of time You've gotten no answer folds

And would you walk away (and I walk away)

You're playing the hand you hold from the very first day

You gotta know when to fold and when to walk away (when to walk away)

You're playing the hand you hold from the very first day Oh, here we go, drop, top, ready to rock

And I'm not the one who brought down

And get to the top of a mountain pinnacle

Everyone's cynical, music's political, seldom original Silent promotion you're feeling within yourself

Just like the ocean, you're crashing against the well

All of the time, you're forgetting about yourself

Looking back after the facts

What have you left yourself? You gotta know when to fold and when to walk away (when to walk away)

You're playing the hand you hold from the very first day

You gotta know when to fold and when to walk away (when to walk away)

You're playing the hand you hold from the very first day You gotta know when to fold and when to walk away

(when to walk away)

You're playing the hand you hold from the very first day

You gotta know when to fold and when to walk away (when to walk away)

You're playing the hand you hold from the very first day

You gotta know when to fold and when to walk away (when to walk away)

You're playing the hand you hold from the very first day

You gotta know when to fold and when to walk away
