

Nothing

The Bros. Landreth

If I were to lose my senses
My mind, it were to bend,
My poetry turn to bumbling,
My songs, they turn to sand
And if I had to live my last days
As a crazy old fool
I'd be so very happy
To say I lived with you. If the moon fell, streaming
A shooting-star tail long in tow
The stars slid downward,
Onto the cosmic floor,
The night would shine no longer
Just darkness through and through
I'd still smile so very gladly
To say I lived with you.
At least I've had some love
To carry me through
If I lived forever, and ever and never
Had that feeling again
I'd lose nothin', nothin' If my hometown disowned me
My name dragged to the ground
The trains all led to nowhere
The planes came crashing down
If the grass lost it's green
And the sea lost it's blue
I'd see rose coloured memories
Of the days I lived with you
At least I've had some love
To carry me through
If I lived forever, and ever and never
Had that feeling again
I'd lose nothin', nothin' Ooo... I'd lose nothin', I've lost nothin'
Song Discussions is protected by U.S. Patent 9401941. Other patents pending.

Lyrics provided by

<https://damnllyrics.com/>