

Wake Your Eyes

Steel Train

Wake your eyes
'Cause the world's still turning around
The love that we built called in sick
'Cause I spent the night dreaming aloud
The time she was ill
And I'm running so far from this gild
And the weeks they just pass
And it's easy to guess why I miss them
There are colors inside
That I cannot find the words for and the reason
We're here has never shined clear like the water
So don't pass me by
All my time is in rhyme 'cause I live in a dream
Where she can be free
Set myself to the side and I watch
As the lives pass as I sleep
It doesn't mean, I can't believe
All I see is the girl that bleeds in the dark
When no one is around, takes her time
'Cause her beauty is in rhyme with her
Soul flies like the dove, ain't no one can tell who to love
