ONE WEEK LATER

WITH WEBB PIERCE

Writer Gary WalkerOne week later oh how I cried

Just one week later I wish I could die

You were so sure you could forget me

You didn't want me by your side

When someone new came and took you

I thought I would be glad to say goodbye

One week later I hurt deep inside

One week later my tears I couldn't hide

One week later oh how I cried

Yes one week later I wish I could die

I prayed for god to forgive me

Yes you broke a heart true as good

But now I relived every moment

We'll regret it until we grow old

One week later I hurt deep inside

One week later my tears I couldn't hide

One week later oh how I cried

Yes one week later I wish I could die
