

Peaceful Waters

Gordon Lightfoot

The dead leaves of Autumn that cling so desperately
Must fly before the cold October winds
Their simple lives is ended
Must they be born to die againOh, may the light of freedom shine
For all the world to see
And peace and joy to all mankind
Through all the years to beFor soon the leaves will die
And the long hard wind will blow
May this world find a resting place
Where the peaceful waters flow
