

Coming Home (Extended Version)

Armin van Buuren

When in doubt, look to me, your the only one that's standing in your way
You block the sun, losing hope and isolate yourself and push the light away
When alone, find yourself, searching places that you've never been before
Close your eyes pictures us somewhere perfect where the sunlight wont fade away
If your torn, then I'll be torn with you
If you fall, then I'll fall right by your side
When your done and your loosing sight
And your lost then I'll guide you back into the light
When the night comes round, all stars will stay
Every step you take, will speak, remain
When the sun fades out, I'll stay awake
I'll be coming home
I'll be coming home
