I Know That Hurt By Heart

Tracy Lawrence

It's dark in here tonight
A great place to come and hide from the blues
Hey, I don't mean to intrude
But I've seen that look before
And I've heard that slamming door too just like youI know that hurt by heart, I've been right where you are
I know how it feels when your world is falling apart
You're not alone tonight, I know what lonely's like
I've still got the scars, I know that hurt by heartI hope you don't take this wrong
But that smile you're puttin' on can't disguise
These tears in your eyes
And laughin' like you don't care
Can't ease the pain down there inside believe me I've triedI know that hurt by heart, I've been right where you are
I know how it feels when your world is falling apart
You're not alone tonight, I know what lonely's like
I've still got the scars, I know that hurt by heartYou're not alone tonight, I know what lonely is like
You've got the scars, I know that hurt by heart
You've got the scars, I know that hurt by heart
