The Exploding Boy

Everything is working
It's taking over me
And what should I do to break it
It's running out of me
Should I show somewhat else
And what might that just be
There are things that dwells
And then whatHow can you live with me when you're living with yourself
How can you live with someone who isn't yourselfAnd now we're standing
In a place or two
And we are waiting
For someone, for something to do
Run away from here
There is really nothing we can do
If we are going somewhere - Where are you
How can you live with me when you're living with yourself
How can you live with someone who isn't yourself
