

Awake (Acoustic Version)

Electric Guest

Back to sin again, must be fate the wait was all day
Black acts to amend at the gate awaiting to stay
Something perished past and gone away
And nothing ever lasts that hesitates
Cause I know these days are calling out the simple sets in the red skyline
These days they call the wind, it's gone
Season of the wake
They are calling out and the shooting me in a silent way
We set the sail again alone
Season of the wake
Back from holiday in my head
The ocean calling
Magic in the grave at the end
The old way falling
Something calling asking to create
The only other lasting love to make
Cause I know these days are calling out the simple sets in the red skyline
These days they call the wind, it's gone
Season of the wake
They are calling out and the shooting me in a silent way
We set the sail again alone
Season of the wake
Chorus: Cause there's something within
Yeah there's something between, I'm awake
All my friends
There's something within
Because something between, I'm awake
You're all my, friends
I've been long, enough awake
I'm alone
I've been long enough awake
I'm alone (repeat)
We've got a feeling of the day
Last time wasn't what we made but we make away
Love is our only true escape
Fear is nothing washed away awake away awake
Last time wasn't what we made but now we make away
