

Sound of Winter

SharaX

if cold's still your friend
then we play winter again
the season's change and the wind-
the memories flood back in, well then,

there's no time to waste
no need to hide behind pent up emotions
from what I can tell
we keep starting over

"you know what's the best?"
tell me they're not like the rest
they won't go back on their word
leave bitter scars, see how winter hurts

yet here you are thinking about how it was right,
now we're starting over

here we go again
it's the Sound of certain Winters
tell me how I rest
when I'm running from myself

will I ever catch my breath?
its an echo with no answer
winter has a soul
and I understand it now

I forgot my favorite sound
it's the jingle of the sleigh bells pawprints on the ground
or the snow that's falling down

sure the memories exist
vivid images of alone
now I see it's not so cold

there's no reason to rest
when there's no reason to run

and I'm not afraid to start over

"you know what the best?"
