Event Horizon

Stratovarius

Warning, event horizon ahead
WarningStanding outside in darkness
My breath is steaming
The skies open wide
I hear the silent screamingDeep in the dark, somewhere in space
Spinning around, leaving no traceNothing escapes
And the boundaries been breached
All matter and shape
Destination's reachedThe star dies, collapsing in its core
End of the journey, it won't be seen anymoreI can see the point of no return
And when the light is slowly turning to red
Life gives away, there's no concern
A force that carries the event horizon lies aheadAlert, destination's reachedI can see the point of no return
And when the light is slowly turning to red
Life gives away, there's no concern
A force that carries the event horizon lies aheadI can see the point of no return
And when the light is slowly turning to red
Life gives away, there's no concern
A force that carries the event horizon lies aheadWarning, imaginable impact
Please evacuate immediately
Counting, ten, nine, eight, seven
Six, five, four, three, two, one
