Starquake

Thumlock

The full moon always rises at dusk
How eccentric is your orbit of life
The eleven year cycle of the sunspot
Spasmodic in nature but still reaches a maximumYou always feel real, standing in the rain
We watch explosions, star's life ends in decay
London Bridge is falling, the apathy of the day
Magnetar is exploding, Starquake's here todayThe solar wind blows more than your hair
It blows off radiation and throws off cosmic dust
Ionic matter explodes in the atmosphere
Aurora fills the sky with night lightYou always feel real, standing in the rain
We watch explosions, star's life ends in decay
London Bridge is falling, the apathy of the day
Magnetar is exploding, Starquake's here today
