Midwintertears

Tristania

Shadow cast upon my heart Endark, thy bleak midwinter tears Condemned to mourn in silence The pale moon rise in her eyesSerene like a frozen stream The flowing beauty in thy tears I crave for thee my once beloved Beyond the veils of darkness lostWhere now thy roses wrapped in dusk Dark enchantress I suffer thy full moon nights Trespass my undesired darkness Tears flowing through thy dreamsDark enchantress The seventh full moon rise I drown in dusk And dark riversSummon all my dreams Like roses on your epigraph Written in my tears Thy sorrow and my bleeding heartShe comes so serene My fallen beauty crowned with leaves Take me to thy dream Thy candle will forever burn in me
