Avenue P

Carole King

In dreams it seems, I always see
Avenue P as it ought to be
In a four-star movie directed by me
And starring of course yours truly, Rosie
In this fabulous movie you're all gonna see
An entirely different Avenue P
Imagine me in a jungle gown
And Avenue P, a jungle town
With king kong swinging out of a tree
And carrying me over that jungle

Avenue P Right

You don't have to sit
With your face in a droop

On the stoop 'Cause your Mama the boss

Says "You better not cross

That old Avenue P"

In a jungle you're free

The tom tom beats, the tiger carouses
The jungle creeps over the red brick houses

And for chillers and thrillers

I train giant gorillas

To chase mamas and papas

Clippety cloppety

Thumping their breasts and roaring

Get off of my property

No one's allowed who says maybe or no

They gotta get out

They just gotta go

Right

In dreams, it seems, I always see

Avenue P as it ought to be

A terrific place for people like me you'll see

I'll make it that way, someday

Avenue P as it ought to be

Avenue P as it ought to be
