

Fact Or Fiction

Sound the Alarm

Hello again, may I help you remember
Why we're here and what we're fighting for We've seen the best and the worst of each other
And you're relentless and you search for more Take a minute, put your heart where your head is Take another to collect your thoughts
Final question is this really all worth it
Or are we simply tearing this apart
Falling over once again, [Incomprehensible]
I can't tell fact from fiction, to me it's all the same
You keep creating fiction that's not enough to make me stay
Let's take a step back and do this the right way
'Cause I've been waitin' for a chance to speak
Don't get me wrong I'm not trying to lecture
I hate to argue when I'm love [Incomprehensible]
Just lately I've been having this feeling
I'm not the only name that's on your mind
Think it's best that we both go our own way
And forget about this wasted time
Falling over once again, [Incomprehensible]
I can't tell fact from fiction, to me it's all the same
You keep creating fiction that's not enough
I can't tell fact from fiction, to me it's all the same
[Incomprehensible] create some friction, I can't tell fact from fiction
I can't tell fact from fiction but you don't seem to care
Instead create some friction, that's not enough
I can't tell fact from fiction, to me it's all the same
You keep creating friction, I can't tell fact from fiction
I can't tell fact from fiction, to me it's all the same
You keep creating friction, that's not enough to make me stay Song Discussions is protected by U.S. Patent 9401941. Other patents pending.

Lyrics provided by

<https://damnllyrics.com/>