

Here We Go Again

La Santa Cecilia

Standing on the edge of time
Wondering who we are supposed to be
Watching all the days go by
Feeling like only just begunAll the world around you
    Turns inside of me
It's ever changingHere we go again
    We'll start another fire
        Here we go again
        I'll do the open rope
        Here we go again
        Without all heart desire
        Here we go again
Only to returnSearching for the words that shine
    Shed a little light to find the truth
    Dreams become the bird of life
        Everything can come out
    Of the blueAll the stars above you
        Are the clues I need
The ever changingHere we go again
    We'll start another fire
        Here we go again
        I'll do the open rope
        Here we go again
        Without all heart desire
        Here we go again
        Only to return
