

The Older I Get (Acoustic)

Skillet

The walls between
You and I
Always pushing us apart
Nothing left but scars, fight after fight
The space between
Our calm and rage
Started growing shorter
Disappearing slowly, day after day
I was sitting there waiting in my room for you
You were waiting for me too
And it makes me wonder
The older I get
Will I get over it?
It's been way too long for the times we missed
I didn't know then it would hurt like this
But I think the older I get
Maybe I'll get over it
It's been way too long for the times we missed
I can't believe it still hurts like this
The time between
Those cutting words
Built up our defenses
Never made no sense, it just made me hurt
Do you believe
That time heals all wounds?
It started getting better
But it's easy not to fight when I'm not with you
I was sitting there waiting in my room for you
You were waiting for me too
And it makes me wonder
The older I get
Will I get over it?
It's been way too long for the times we missed
I didn't know then it would hurt like this
But I think the older I get
Maybe I'll get over it
It's been way too long for the times we missed
I can't believe it still hurts like this
What was I waiting for?
I should've taken less and given you more
I should've weathered the storm
Need to say so bad
What were you waiting for?
This could have been the best we'd ever had
The older I get
Will I get over it?
It's been way too long for the times we missed
I didn't know then it would hurt like this
But I think the older I get
Maybe I'll get over it
It's been way too long for the times we missed
I can't believe it still hurts like this
Hurts like this

Just getting older
I'm not getting over you
I'm trying to wish it didn't hurt like this It's been way too long for the times we missed
I can't believe it still hurts like this
