

Time To Kill

Sophie Zelmani

For your own good
For your demons
For your husband
For your son
For love
For love A life on prayer
You will be coming back to us
For better days
Better days If you are just nights and days
If you are just years away
If your time really stands still
We just have time to kill
Time to kill Against our will
Against all respect for fate
Against all sense
Against love
Against love We are locked out
From your secret place
For love If you are just nights and days
If you are just years away
If your time really stands still
We just have time to kill
Time to kill If you are just nights and days
If you are just years away
If your time really stands still
We just have time to kill
