

Better Half

The Get Up Kids

I saw my better half, the better half of a decade
Slip through my hands inside her hands inside my pockets
When she reached for her advantages
I should have done something I saw my baby boy digging his own hole
Keepin' alive family traditions
When he lied about intentions
I, I should have done something
I should have done something Well, I blame myself for everything
It keeps my conscience clean
I've got bandages to prove it, to prove it I saw my better half, the better half of a decade
Slip through my hands inside her hands inside my pockets
When she reached for her advantages
I should have done something I should have done something
I should have done something
I should have done something
I should have done something
I should have done something
I should have done something
I should have done something
I should have done something

Lyrics provided by

<https://damnllyrics.com/>