You Want It All

Go Betty Go

Listen back on the track
Is there something that you know?
I've heard this song before a long time ago
It once brought back a memory alone
Something lost, something gone
That you don't recall
You did your best to forget, now it's dead and goneYou want it all
You left it far behind
Can't see the thought
There's nothing in your mindThis song used to be about someone you knew
He is here no more taking care of you
Why did he have to leave this world behind?
Something lost, something gone
That you don't recall
You did your best to forget, now it's dead and goneYou want it all
You left it far behind
Can't see the thought
There's nothing in your mind
