All I Want

Saigon Kick

I have danced in the finest ballrooms
I have loved, never losing sight
I have sighed at the sight of Paris
All I want is you, all I need is youI would die from a soldiers bullet
I would wait in the noon day sun
I would cry from the highest mountains
All I want is you, all I need is youAll I want is you
All I want is youI can run with the bulls in Spain
I can have the finest jewels
I could climb the Himalayas
All I want is you, all I need is youAll I want is you
All I want is youI am the one who kneels down, don't you know
I want the things only you could ever show
You need a man who loves you more than his life
Zero's the price for the ride into lifeI never thought the sun would rise
On a day as fine as this
All my life, I would've dreamed it happened
All I want is you, all I need is youAll I want is you, all I need is you
All I want is you, all I need is you
