The Moon And The Sky

Sade

I was the one, I, who could
Pull in all the stars above
Lay them on your feet
And I gave you my love
You are the one that got me started
You could have let me love anyone, but I only wanted you
So why did you make me cry?
Why didn't you come get me one last time?
You'll always know the reason why
We could have had the moon and the sky
You'll always know the reason why this love
Reason why this love ain't gonna let you go
You lay me down and left me for alliance
A long, long time ago
You left me there dying
But you'll never let me go
You'll always know the reason why
We could have had the moon and the sky
You'll always know the reason why this love
Reason why this love ain't gonna let you go
You'll always know the reason why
The song you heard will stay on your mind
It ain't gonna let you go, no
'Cause you were the moon and I the endless sky
You'll always know the reason why
We could have had the moon and the sky
You'll always know the reason why this love
Reason why this love
Ain't gonna let you go
Ain't gonna let you go
You had the keys to the car
(You'll always know)
You had every star
(The reason why)
Every one of them twinkling
(We could have had)
Baby, what were you thinking
(The moon and the sky)
You'll always know

We had the moon and the sky above
And I gave you my love
