See What Love Can Do

Eric Clapton

When your world, it starts to fall apart
Look deep within, within your lonely heart
Do your best my friend, try and understand
It's only you, pull yourself through
When you tell your story
Make sure your story's right
Every little single word is true
See what love can do
See what love can do
When the words are in the music, the music is the song
The world would be so happy, if we'd all just get along
I want to see it, a smile on every face
So when we tell our story
Make sure that it's right
Every single word is true
See what love can do
See what love can do
See what love can do

So when you tell your story, honey
Make sure that it's right
I finally proved the message true
I see what love can do
See what love can do
See what love can do
See what love can do
When we sing the story
Make sure your song is right
Finally proved the message true
See what love can do
Oh, see what love can do
See what love can do
See what love can do
See what love can do
See what love can do
See what love can do
See what love can do
