

Down to the Riverside Now

Lily Bee

What better than a sunny day
To melt away a yesterday?

Iâ€™d rather not remember how deep the river ran
You woke up with a smile when my skin began to tan
I tore out scribbled pages
Smeared the ink across
The flower of the ages
Laid to rest in soggy moss

(Chorus)

Iâ€™d rather not remember
How deep the river ran
Iâ€™d rather not remember
How in love with you I am

You say, â€œWeâ€™re made for healing,â€•
As if I was unaware
Some hearts are made for stealing
Others break beyond repair

(Chorus)

Iâ€™ll be the one to take you home
But Iâ€™ll be driving back alone
How long do I hold you before someone scolds you
And tells you to let go?

(Chorus)
