

Same Story Someone New

Useless ID

Same story here it goes, more hard times falling in love.
Even the best dosen't seem to please me.
A guardian angel left my broken heart in hell.
I thought I was over it, but I'm not.Sometimes on Valentine's, I get someone new in mind.
I think I've fallen for the wrong girl.That time of year agian, when relationships all end.
I find myself with my friends alone again, feeling down on God Knows what?
I don't even care about doing the right thing too many times (when I should).The past repeats itself.
The future brings me someone else.
I wish it was all different but, for now I'll manage.
Somehow with what I've got,
hold to it till it's gone and maybe then I'll find the right one.
