Cold Cold Wind

Jabe

Tear your MAG[?] over silk white shirt
Either way there this gonna cover you a dirt
When they lower you down, into the ground

Lovers will come, lovers will go
There's only so much time you get to let them be known Before they lower them down, into the ground

Say, and cold, and cold wind gonna take you wherever they
And cold, and cold wind gonna take you away

You can brake your back , all your years
You better shade more after, than you shaded tears
Before they lower you down, into the ground

Say, and cold, and cold wind gonna take you wherever they
And cold, and cold wind gonna take you away

I think with my head, I follow my heart
I do my best, now, I'll tear myself apart
Before they lower me down, into the ground

And when I sorry and send you, open your ears
Die yourself in the depth until there STOMPES[?] and tears
They gonna lower you down..

Say, and cold, and cold wind gonna take you wherever they
And cold, and cold wind gonna take you away

Say, and cold, and cold wind gonna take you wherever they
And cold, and cold wind gonna take you away

and cold and cold wind, and cold and cold wind, and cold and cold wind
and cold and cold wind, and cold and cold wind, and cold and cold wind and cold and cold wind, and cold and cold wind and cold and cold wind, and.....
