For You

Kurt Nilsen

For YouHow many times have I seen?
You never get to keep the ones that you love
And if so, why bother.
If you could pick and choose from the top of the shelf
It wouldn't work 'cause you'd be aiming too high
You wana find someone alikeFor you
For youI see you come here, with your broken smile
What are you trying to do to yourself?
Forget it and move on
You always want what's hard to get, and when you get it,
You want something else, whatever that may beFor you
For youFor You
For youAll this time, where did it go?
I can't believe it`s true, but you know I'm here for you
I'm here for you
So when you walk out there, let me end by saying
Best of luck, may you find your own way, wherever that may beFor You
[For you]
