

Leaving Me Before the Spring Semester

Element 101

I have no concept
Of why you left because
You failed to show me
What was on your mind and now Every time the phone rings
I wonder if you're calling me
To say you're coming back again
But I'm still waiting I know I acted
Cold when you said, "Goodbye"
I didn't know how
I could say, "Goodbye" to you And every time the phone rings
I wonder if you're calling me
To say you're coming back again
But I'm still waiting I hope you know that I support
Every single thing you do
It's just so hard
When someone's trying to fill your shoes And every time the phone rings
I wonder if you're calling me
To say you're coming back again
But I'm still waiting And every time the phone rings
I wonder if you're calling me
To say you're coming back again
But I'm still waiting And every time the phone rings
I wonder if you're calling me
To say you're coming
