Cold Night

Eskobar

Just like the wind easily turns
A heart is now cold that used to burn
But that's no reason to, go blind foreverSome people give you great advice
And those who listen have to pay the price
But that's no reason to, go deaf foreverIt's a really cold night, in the same old town though
I know I belong where the sun grows
It's a really cold night, in the same old town though
Right now I'm staying here where the wind blows
And my heart closedJust like the sun glows and burns,
Someone can give you life but then they turn
But that's no reason to, go blind foreverReal life is not for those who hide
Although the trail of love is a very bumpy ride
But that's no reason to, go deaf foreverIt's a really cold night, in the same old town though...It's a really cold night, in the same old town though...
