

Safe

Dani'el

Word by word They fell into this page
Each letter carries a moment Needs to be there, to stay
The ink never fades Still watching at me
Lurking at the corner, Wonders if the memory is still there
I sent you this page There were so many
Knows that you will sing And memorize each saying
Now I know If my words in your hands
I Am safe
You once said to me You can always be safe
But destiny had his call In his own way you made
Now there is only whisper
Goes for miles Travels on one paper
With a post stamp to remind Word by word
They fell Watching Lurking Hope Still there
