Rise & Fall

Daniel Renstrom

I turn around and I'm in your world
Your pleasure is my pain in your world
But dissatisfied, I'll crawl to your world
And your body's warmth
Will only leave me colder in my world

No, it's not what I wanted
But she's holding my hand
No, it's not what I wanted
At least she's holding my hand

Well, I'm inside out
I'm all inside out
Yes, she's tearing me apart
Well, I'm inside out

This casual arrangement
Leaves a bitter taste
Our usual commitments
That's just kill me and killing you

Well, our casual arrangement
Just leaves a bitter taste
Well, our usual commitments
Just killing me, killing you

And I wish it was
Oh, if I could change the world, I wish
Maybe if circumstances could allow, would allow
And you could come around again tonight

Oh, take me out of here
'Cause I'm never coming home
Oh, take me out of here
'Cause I'm never coming home

Well, I'm inside out
I'm all inside out
Yeah, she's tearing me apart

Well, I'm inside out

Well, this casual arrangement
Leaves a bitter taste
Our usual commitments
That's just killing me, killing you

We'd better change
We'd better change, change
We'd better change
We'd better change, change

Lyrics powered by lyrics.tancode.com written by STING/MILLER, DOMINIC/DAVID, CRAIG ASHLEY Lyrics Â© EMI Music Publishing

Lyrics provided by https://damnlyrics.com/