

Full Moon Rising

Neil Halstead

Tell me there's a full moon risin'
Big and bright on the horizon
Are you feelin' strange?
A butterfly fallin'...Thought that it would be so easy
Paid all your debts and now you're leavin'
Closin' your eyes
Got your momma's eyes...You wouldn't tear love apart for less
Standin' by the door in your red dress
You're just a little girl, hiding in your doubt
Tell me, how does it feel when the lights go out?You always gotta go one more
And now you got none at allDriving by the old school buildin'
Always lookin' for somethin'
Whatcha lookin' for?
Whatcha lookin' for?Tell me that we'll all go crazy
Or did we just put all on hold?
Lookin' for love
What a big idea...You wouldn't tear love apart for less
Standin' by the door in your red dress
You're just a little girl, hiding in the dark
Tell me, how does it feel when the lights go up?You always gotta go one more
And now you got none at all
You always gotta go one more
And now you got none at allTell me there's a full moon risin'
Big and bright on the horizon
Are you feelin' strange?
A butterfly fallin'...I don't know much about nothin'
But I know what I believe in
If you got a plan, then I got a reason
If you got a plan, then I got a reasonYou wouldn't tear love apart for less
Standin' by the door in your red dress
You're just a little girl, hiding in your doubt
Tell me, how does it feel when the lights go out?
