

Keep It Safe

Boris Smile

You, you get depressed
When you think about
Your friends and your guitar
And the way your life turned out

You sat by the queen
And you never learned her name
Now you sit alone
In a courtroom with no one to blame

You crack a smile when they pass you by
The monster in your soul eats you alive
And everything inside of you wants to die
'Cause no one ever throws you a bone
You know you're gonna end up alone
One day

Welcome to the world today
The mirror says
You're going great
It's your last breath, so make it a good one
This is the end

You, I hate your guts
'Cause you fit the part
You are just like me
You pretend that you have a heart

You are in the scene
And you've got the license to
Do just what you want
And that's the reason I hate you

You crack a smile when they pass you by
The monster in your soul eats you alive
And everything inside of you wants to die
'Cause no one ever throws you a bone
You know you're gonna end up alone
One day

Welcome to the world today
The mirror says
You're going great
It's your last breath, so make it a good one
This is the end
This is the end
