This Love

Julia Stone

I can feel your heart beat,
When I'm all alone.
I can feel your heartbeat like it's my own.

I can hear your music from a million miles away,
The angels got right when they made you they way they made you.
Sometimes I wonder if you're made from bones and skin
Or are you something for me to begin again, again.

This love, this love
This love, this love.

I will build you a mountain,
So you can see
All the away across the universe
To me.

I will build you shelter for when the days are cold .
I will be your shelter for when were old and kind

This love, this love,
This love, this love,
This love, this love
This love, this love.
