

Few And Far Between

A Dying Dream

Times are far between and few I bet
We can look upon our lives without regret
 Of all the things I have done
 You think I'm proud of everyone
 Without exception
 'Til you make your peace with yesterday
 Never build a future I swear by what I say
 Whatever penance you do
 Decide what it's worth to you
 And then respect it
 However long it will take
 To weather your mistakes
 Why not accept it?

My hands for now are tied
I'm a body frozen, I'm a will that's paralyzed
When will you ever set aside your pain and misery?
No matter how I beg, no matter how I wish or plead
 You'll never be more than alive
 You'll never do more than survive
 Until you expect it
 Do you want to build a world with our lives?
 You better soon decide
 Or you can forget it
 My hands for now are tied
 I'm a body frozen, I'm a will that's paralyzed
 'Til you drop that heavy baggage you're dragging behind
 There won't be room for us to both go this ride
