Travelling Man

CC Smugglers

Travelling man... Such secrets to be told.
Alien man... Running from the days of old.
Out of his world, with nothing left to lose.
Travelling man... Coming down to rescue you.
You're hard to find, Timelord...
Too busy saving everything to stop.
The Travelling Man will save the day.
The Travelling Man will keep you safe.
Even if he has to die five hundred and seven times,
The Travelling Man will save the day.
Waiting so long for something to reprove.
Gallifrey man, all this tragic history.
Such a sharp mind, but broken are his hearts.
Engines in gear, time to put things in the past.

There comes a time, Timelord,
When every boy must learn how to dance.
The Travelling Man will save the day.
The Travelling Man will keep you safe.
Even if he has to die five hundred and seven times,
The Travelling Man will save the day.
Everybody knows that everybody dies,
But nobody knows it like him.
I think all the lights would drain out of the skies
If he ever gave up trying.
Just this once, everybody lives.
The Travelling Man will save the day.
The Travelling Man will keep you safe.
Even if he has to die five hundred and seven times,
The Travelling Man will save the day.

Lyrics provided by
https://damnlyrics.com/