Hold On to the World

Kane

So I've been waiting for the fall
I've been waiting for the crash
Oh, wait a minute, Mr. Man
Can't you see, this is the end?
But this is no goodbye, no way, man, no, noAnd I've been calling out your name
Oh, at least a million times
So wait a minute, Mr. Vain
You got caught up in the game
But I am still around, I will stay aroundUntil you see me, you hear me
Till you reach out and feel me
I can't discover why my love was never healing
And I can't discover why all you do is suffer
You've got to keep holding on
You see the worst but I want the bestHold the line for every single ray of light
You've got to hold on, you've got to hold on
Read the signs in every truth, in every lie
You've got to hold on, yeahI'd like to thank you very much
You overrated little prick
And I'd like to tell you this much, baby
I want you to be here another dayFor I'll be calling out your name
So wait a minute, Mr. Saint
For we are heading for the end
So this will be goodbye
It's gonna be goodbye [Incomprehensible], goodbyeUntil you trust me, you hear me
Till you learn not to fear me
I can't believe the fact that you're only out to hurt me
And I can't discover why all you do is suffer
You've got to keep holding on, yeah
You see the worst but I need the bestHold the line for every single ray of light
You've got to hold on, you've got to hold on
Read the signs in every truth, in every lie
You've got to hold on, you've got to hold on to the world
Hold on to the worldOh, oh yeah, hold the line for every single ray of light
You've got to hold on, you've got to hold on
Read the signs in every truth, in every lie
Hold on, we've got to hold on to the world, yeah
We've got to hold on to the world
We've got to hold on to the world, yeahHave mercy, mercy, a little mercy, oh yeah
And everything's gonna be alright, oh

Everything's gonna be alright

Lyrics provided by https://damnlyrics.com/