The Long One

Josh Gracin

There's no holding you back when you're leaving
I'll have to face it alone until tomorrow
And as your fading away
I know it's a matter of hours til the tears begin
Guess I'll turn out the lights and I'll settle in

For the long one
For the restless night
As your memory fades with no end in sight
It's a strong one and it holds on tight
Laying in the darkness
Praying for the morning sun
It's a long one

I've been through this before it wasn't easy
I think I'm ready this time
I think I'm ready
I'll lay down on this bed and then
I'll imagine your touch and I'll see your face
And the shadows will come and surround this place

For the long one
For the restless night
As your memory fades with no end in sight
It's a strong one and it holds on tight
Laying in the darkness
Praying for the morning sun
It's a long one

These days go by so fast
I just turn around then they're gone
And when the night time goes
It's long and lonely
Holding on and on

For the long one
For the restless night
As your memory fades with no end in sight
It's a strong one and it holds on tight
Laying in the dark

Praying for the morning sun
It's a long one
It's a long one
