Undone

Casey James

Peace of mind sometimes depends
On the path your heartâ€™s been traveling
Mineâ€™s been broken, mineâ€™s been bruised
Itâ€™s fallen hard a time or two
And up â€˜til now I didnâ€™t know who could save me

Iâ€™ve searched around enough to know
About holding on and letting go
And finally Iâ€™ve found the one
Who makes me come undone

Now the bad, bad news donâ€™t sound so hard
Long, lonely miles donâ€™t stretch too far
I ainâ€™t up all night praying for sleep
My empty pockets donâ€™t feel so deep
Whatever youâ€™re doing, baby
Keep it coming

Iâ€™ve searched around enough to know
About holding on and letting go
And finally Iâ€™ve found the one
Who makes me come undone

Undone like the clouds pouring out a perfect rain
Undone like the grace of heaven healing my pain
You lying in my arms, me whispering your name
Wonâ€™t ever be the same

Well, Iâ€™ve searched around enough to know
About holding on and letting go
And finally Iâ€™ve found the one, well, Iâ€™ve found the one
That makes me come undone
Well, you make me come undone
