My Brother

MisterWives

Oh it breaks my heart
To watch your head get torn apart
I see the weight upon your bones
Don't carry this alone
Always think about your letter
That cried how you want to get better
You will fly again I know
No matter how hard the winds blowsOh my brother
It pains me to see you here again
Oh my brother
I'll take this road with you until the end
And I'll never leave you,
I'll never leave you
I'll never leave youFlowers bloom in spring
And with that fear is what it brings
Because it's time to say goodbye
Until the storm has wrung you dry
When you wake from this nightmare
Please know we're here to wipe your tears
And hold you 'til the sun comes out
Our love will never face a droughtOh my brother
It pains me to see you here again
Oh my brother
I'll take this road with you until the endAnd we'll see this through we'll see this through,
We'll see this through, we'll see this through
Let love guide you home
When you're wandering when you're wandering
Don't let your true self turn to stone
When you're wandering when you're wandering
Know that this too shall pass
Let the waves crash let the waves crash
And wash you clean to shore
Pain turn to ash pain turn ash
Turn to ashAnd I'll never leave you
I'll never leave you
I'll never leave you
We'll see this through
We'll see this through
We'll see this through
