

The Lines We Cross

The Black Maria

Something comes over me
There's poison coming from the TV
The buzzing attracts the fleas
I've seen the sun rise for weeks We're lost in each other
What's one without the other?
Fused together, fused together Paranoid by the sound of the streets
Wood creaks like the march of machines
My blood lust consuming me
My hunger is matched by my greed We're lost in each other
What's one without the other?
Fused together, fused together We're lost in each other
What's one without the other?
Fused together, fused together Now save us from the killer's eye
Save us from the lines we cross
