Jump In

Making April

Jump in don't save yourself for last breathe in this life don't leave it in the past you've found yourself here one last time but where do you go when the curtain's coming down this isn't how we got so far there's nothing better than waking up to a new day so wake me when you see life's worth living out and tell me when this gets better but don't be alarmed if I'm not here when you figure it out just call I'll throw you a line take in this world you've broken down your hero's gone and there's no one left in town just one more page here left to write
but where do you go when the curtain's coming down how did we ever get this far there's something better for both these lives on the outsideand we're on our way to the lives we said we would play and we're on our way to the roads we knew we would take yeah we're on our way tonight you're holding back on me once again did you ever think this through cause your last grain's making its way down way downyeahhhget up you're falling behind and fading away
